Since 1965, Family Services Child Development (FSCD) has been serving preschool children in Forsyth County. FSCD enrolls 499 preschoolers for Head Start and provides an Extended Day Program for parents who are working and/or in school. FSCD operates Head Start programs in Kernersville, at Mineral Springs Elementary School, on the campus of Winston-Salem State University (WSSU), and the Sarah Y. Austin Child Development Center in Winston-Salem.

FSCD also partners with five private childcare centers, including Bethlehem Community Center Inc., Church Child Care, Maxx Kinder Kollege, TLC Learning Academy, and North Point Academy LLC. Head Start funds are combined with North Carolina Pre-K funding at these sites.

In collaboration with the Winston-Salem Forsyth County Schools, FSCD also provides a Head Start classroom in in three elementary schools: Griffith, North Hills and Old Town.

In March 2015, Family Services was awarded a federal grant to establish an Early Head Start (EHS) program in Forsyth County. EHS will provide high quality, age-tailored services to 120 children from infancy through 3 years of age, in collaboration with seven community childcare centers. The EHS program will become operational in the fall of 2015.

Based on years of experience and proven success, FSCD focuses on key elements of school readiness: social skills, language, literacy, math, science, self-help and creative arts and helps parents become self-sufficient. Additional services include health screening, social and emotional health screenings and services, nutrition education, volunteer activities and opportunities for involvement, social services (when needed), and evaluation and follow up services to help children with disabilities and special needs cope and adapt.

Community Partners, New Collaborators and Resources

Community partners are essential to Family Services’ Child Development Centers. They offer expertise to families in diverse areas. They also volunteer and donate food, clothing, toys, books, and money. Below are just a few of our partners:

- The Stocked Pot & Co. - Chef Donald McMillan “Chef Don”
- Winston-Salem Fire Department
- University of North Carolina of the School of the Arts – ArtistCorps/AmeriCorps
- Santa’s Helper
- Jack & Jill
- Winston-Salem Children’s Museum
- SCAN (Stop Child Abuse Now)
- BB&T Bank and Woodforest National Bank
- Forsyth County Department of Public Health
- Forsyth County Department of Social Services (DSS)
- Smart Start of Forsyth County
- Project Hope
- Work Family Resource Center
In collaboration with our community partners, Family Services’ Head Start program provides Forsyth County’s young children and their families educational, health, nutrition and social services that enhance each child’s readiness for school. Our goal is to prepare our preschoolers for kindergarten.

Head Start collaborates with the Winston-Salem Forsyth County Schools to match educational goals on school readiness, with emphasis (especially for the older children) on social skills, language, literacy, math, science, self-help and creative arts. We share relevant information on each child to make the transition to kindergarten as smooth and successful as possible.

Family Services annually enrolls 450 four-year-olds in Head Start. In measuring the use of logic and reasoning, four-year-olds enrolled in Family Services’ Head Start begin the year below the average score for all children of the same age and finish the year well above the average.
Last spring, Home Depot’s Hanes Mall Boulevard employees once again made major improvements to the courtyard garden areas at Head Start. They provided plants, soil and seeds and also planted vegetables, fruits and flowers.

Working with Forsyth County Department of Public Health we served more than 25 Head Start families with the 14-week series of The Incredible Years® Parenting Programs. Incredible Years® offers a set of interlocking, comprehensive, and developmentally based programs to improve parenting skills. The programs that compose the Incredible Years® Series are guided by developmental theory on the role of multiple interacting risk and protective factors in the development of conduct problems. The programs are designed to work jointly in order to promote emotional, social, and academic competence and to prevent, reduce, and treat behavioral and emotional problems in young children.

Results of the Most Recent Review and Financial Audit

The most recent audit of our compliance with OMB Circular A-133 compliance requirements found that Family Services, Inc. complied in all material respects, with the compliance requirements that could have a direct and material effect on our Head Start program for the year ended June 30, 2015.

Our Head Start program’s most recent Federal Reviews occurred April 20-24, 2015 (Environmental Health and Safety component EnvHS) and May 18-22, 2015 (Fiscal/ERSEA components). Based on the information gathered during the review, no area of noncompliance was found in the EnvHS review. We were found to be out of compliance in one of nineteen areas in the Fiscal/ERSEA review. We have taken appropriate corrective action in this area and expect approval following review by the Office of Head Start.
